

This is what the
things can teach us:
to fall,
patiently
to trust our heaviness.

Even a bird has to do that
before he can fly.